GARDEN BOOKS AT THE LIBRARY

New homes require good thinking when it comes to planning the grounds and planting the shrubs and trees that will continue to be a pleasure and not require removal in a few years. The library has books and periodicals on this most interesting phase of home ownership. Much material is being displayed through the end of the month. Garden walks, terraces, walls, pools, rock gardens, annuals, perennials, garden furniture, lawns, tool houses, etc., are included.

The only part of a man that doesn't function well while he is in pursuit of a dollar is his conscience.

The Newspaper Leads

In the comparatively recent past, the local newspaper was about the only place where merchants could advertise their wares. Since then, other important media have come into existence – notably the radio and television. But, despite the inroads these have made on retailers' advertising budgets, the newspaper is still the dominant factor in the field by a wide margin.

That statement is substantiated by a recent survey of the advertising practices of department stores in all sections of the country. It found that the typical store allocated 80 per cent of the advertising dollar to newspapers, nine per cent to television, four per cent to radio, three per cent to direct mail, and four per cent to other media.

The local newspaper offers the surest means of reaching the masses of the people – whether with a news story or an editorial opinion or an advertising message. And that's why merchants place it first when dividing up their advertising appropriations.

Incidentally, one wonders if there are still people who regard advertising as a waste which adds unnecessarily to the cost of goods. Actually advertising acts as a possible factor in holding prices down by creating the widest possible demand for merchandise, and thus making mass production and mass distribution possible.

The Biggest Pie Eater

All of us – workers, consumers, investors – have a direct interest in progressive, profitable, and expanding industry. What isn't so generally realized is that government has a tremendous interest in this too.

Last year's financial experience in a big manufacturing company is fairly typical. It paid salaries and other employee costs of $1,146,700,000. It declared dividends of $121,600,000, which went to the shareowners who made its existence possible. And it set aside for taxes the neat sum of $422,500,000. After government takes this first bite out of the owner's earnings, it takes a second bite out of what is left and paid him in dividends.

In other words, the workers get the biggest cut of the financial pie. Government is next, and the owners run third.

THE AUTOMATIC EYE

By Science Features

The miraculously sensitive and delicate instruments that people have on either side of their nose—their eyes—should be greatly appreciated. The camera, a close copy of the eye, has to be continuously adjusted and focused, but the eyes are fully automatic. They can glance from a magazine, out of a window, to a moving object and instantaneously send these sight impulses to the brain for appropriate reaction.

Because of their sensitivity, many parts of the eye areas—such as the lids, cornea or conjunctiva — can be easily damaged. An insignificantly small particle in the eye, the most frequent cause of injury, can result in pain and tears that often stop a person in his tracks.

It is fortunate that people are made extremely miserable by eye trouble, because they then seek immediate relief. Doctors have new instruments and anesthetics to treat the eye and eliminate pain and they also use antibiotics and hormone drugs. The hormones, such as hydrocortisone, relieve the inflammation and antibiotics fight infection. A new preparation, called cortril with terramycin, is the first to combine these qualities for treating a wide variety of eye infections.

There are many common illnesses that can beset the eye: the minor scratch or bruise, styes, the highly contagious pink eye, or the swollen crusty condition called blepharitis are just a few.

Minor ailments, if not cared for, can cause loss of sight, so however slight the annoyance, it should be treated by a doctor.

Both the senior and junior choirs of the Free church under the direction of Ernest L. Thornquist, organist and director, took part in a choir festival held Sunday in the Congregational church at Bradford.

Comparatively little damage was done here by the wildest spring storm in 50 years which raged all day Tuesday and well into the night with unabated force. A total of 2.34 inches of rain fell. The steeple of the Baptist church rocked in the gale and the ornamental railings surrounding the structure were torn away. It was necessary to rope off a portion of the sidewalk as a safety measure.

10 Years Ago – April 1944

Over 100 acres of woodland were burned over in West Andover Apr. 19 during a day of several fires, and apparatus from surrounding towns were called in to help combat the different blazes. The largest fire started shortly after noon at the junction of Wood Hill and High Plain roads and worked its way into adjoining woodlands. While this was in progress Fire Warden John Campbell discovered another fire near Bellevue road. The state fire truck and apparatus from North Reading helped extinguish this blaze. Earlier in the morning a fire started off Corbett street and worked across the Lawrence line.

The Andover Police Relief association has turned over a check for $1000 to the Andover Servicemen's Fund. This represents proceeds from the policemen's ball in February.

A Lawrence man was sentenced to two months in the house of correction for having left the scene of a fatality Saturday night in which John Snider of Ballardvale was instantly killed. The latter apparently had alighted from a bus and was crossing North Main street when struck and left lying in the rain-swept road.

J. Everett Collins was re-elected president of the Andover Servicemen's Fund and Harold Wennik vice president at a meeting of the directors last night. Other officers elected were: Charles E. Foster, treasurer; Frank R. Petty, assistant treasurer; Anna M. Greeley, secretary,

A bill introduced into the legislature to establish a Lawrence district court to include that city, Andover, Methuen and North Andover was defeated in the house.

Last Tuesday evening an old fashioned supper was served in the West Parish church vestry in charge of Mrs. William Cutler and Mrs. E. W. Boutwell. The entertainment of the evening consisted of an old-fashioned spelling match.

Many prominent clergymen from all over New England attended the funeral services for Prof. Egbert Coffin Smyth of the Andover Theological Seminary held Friday in the Seminary chapel. A feature of the service, which was conducted by Prof. E. Y. Hinks of the seminary, was the reading of a testimonial which it was planned to present Prof. Smyth at the coming June 9 anniversary. The testimonial bears the signatures of hundreds of former students who had received instruction in ecclesiastical history from the dead professor. It was to have been given to him on the completion of his 40 years service as a member of the seminary faculty.

POLICE SEEK WEAPONS OWNED BY TEEN-AGERS

Atty. Gen. George Fingold that was issued after a recent school fatality in the Greater Boston area has been read by Patrolman Robert V. Deyermond in all of the schools.

The purpose of this safety measure by police is not so much to make it unpleasant for anybody but to know where such weapons are and what control they are under.

To date the police have taken a .60 mm automatic pistol of German make, a Japanese army rifle, and several sling shots from teen-agers. The sling shots were taken only after they had caused damage.

Police also recovered a cutlass and other Civil War weapons that were taken about a week ago in a break at the Andover Historical Society. Three lads, two from Shawsheen and one from Lawrence made the break and took several weapons in a display. They have been returned.

Since the Fingold announcement was read in the schools several boys have come forward voluntarily with information that they have a collection of firearms at their homes. Nothing will be done to prevent such collections, the police being interested principally in knowing where they are and who is responsible for them.

Police are concerned mainly with knowing if small firearms or switch-blade knives are in the possession of teen-agers, and request information of anyone knowing of such cases.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASE MUST BE REPORTED

The board of health is giving notice that any physician who visits a case involving a contagious disease must report it to the board in writing. This also applies to parents or a guardian if there is no physician.

Any child who is absent from school because of a contagious disease must have a note from his physician or school doctor before returning to school.

Plan Improvements At State Forest

Work will commence early in the summer on the construction of three new buildings, 50 additional fireplaces and a new drinking water supply at the Harold Parker state forest at a cost of $19,000, Gov. Christian A. Herter has announced. This is part of the $50,000 program for the improvement of state parks and forests.

Gov. Herter pointed out that the Harold Parker state forest is growing in popularity each year, drawing large numbers of recreation seekers from Essex and Middlesex counties. He said figures show that 59,651 persons visited the area in 1952 and last year the number increased to 61,767 visitors.

Gov. Herter said the three new buildings at Harold Parker will be comfort stations. One to be erected at the Stearns Pond picnic area and another at Sudden Pond will each cost $5500. A third planned for the Lorrain park camping area will cost $5000. The 50 additional fireplaces at the latter place will cost an estimated $2000; while the drinking water supply at Lorrain park will cost $1000.

Will Aid Veterans At Bedford Hospital

The Andover chapter of the American Red Cross was represented at a recent meeting of the Bedford Veterans Hospital council by Miss Barbara Loomer, executive secretary of the chapter, Mrs. Harold Smith, chairman of the Junior Red Cross, and Mrs. Elbert C. Weaver, production chairman.

Andover's assignments at the hospital for next year were discussed. These include party refreshments by the canteen, games and table decorations to be made by the Junior Red Cross, Cinderella trips by the motor corps, which means that patients who are able to leave the hospital are taken for rides, the birthday month, during which the Andover chapter is in charge of birthday parties, entertainment on special occasions, and the work of the Grey Ladies.

Miss Pitman, of the Bedford hospital staff, commended Andover's three Grey Ladies who are completing their first year of service. They are Mrs. Leroy Wilson, Mrs. Charles N. Machen, and Mrs. Frederick L. Hamilton. Other Grey Ladies from Andover who have given many years of volunteer service at the hospital are Mrs. Herbert F. Allicon and Mrs. L. A. Field.
